Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Introduction	Introduction	3	Amends the 1st paragraph.	The General Plan for the City and County of Honolulu is a comprehensive statement of objectives and policies which that sets forth the long-range aspirations of O'ahu's residents and the strategies to achieve them. It is the first tier of and lays the foundation for a comprehensive planning process that addresses physical, social, cultural, economic, and environmental concerns affecting the City and County of Honolulu. This planning process serves as the coordinative means by which the City and County government provides direction [to the growth projected] for future change and development on O'ahu.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Figure 1	Introduction	3	Amends the title of Figure 1.	Figure 1. Diagram of the [planning process] Planning Process for the City and County of Honolulu

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Introduction	Introduction	4	Amends the 3rd paragraph on the page.	O'ahu is the third largest of the eight main Hawaiian islands, with a total land area of approximately 600 square miles and nearly 230 miles of shoreline. Nicknamed the "Gathering Place," O'ahu is the most populous and developed island, and is the island that has experienced the greatest population growth and development transformation since the introduction of western culture to these islands western contact . With a resident population that increased from about 60,000 in 1900, to 953,000 963,826 in 2010 2020 , O'ahu accounts for 70% 69% of the state's total population. In addition, O'ahu reports the highest number of visitors per year.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Introduction	Introduction	4	Amends the 4th paragraph on the page.	No other Hawaiian island offers the contrast and diversity in urban, rural, and natural landscapes as O'ahu. O'ahu's urban core, stretching from Wai'alaie-Kāhala to Pearl City, is home to the state's State's financial center (downtown Honolulu), the state's State's most well-known visitor destination (Waikīkī), and the state's State's main commercial harbor and international airport. Beyond the urban core, suburban and rural communities are surrounded by scenic vistas and open spaces, including active farmlands. The Ko'olau and Wai'anae Mountain Ranges, other geological landmarks such as Diamond Head, and the island's shorelines and beaches contribute significantly to O'ahu's natural beauty and recreational amenities. as well as critical recreational and cultural sites for resident quality of life. Although future population projections indicate a slower rate of growth in the future due to an aging population and mature economy, O'ahu will continue to maintain its prominence as the state's State's economic, political, and population center.

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Purpose of the General Plan	5	Corrects a typographical error in the 2nd paragraph.	Under the Revised Charter of the City and County of Honolulu, Chapter 15, Section 6-1508, the General Plan shall set forth the City's objectives and broad policies for the long-range development of the island. It shall contains contain statements of the general social, economic, environmental and design objectives to be achieved for the general welfare and prosperity of the people of O'ahu and the most desirable population distribution and regional development pattern.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Purpose of the General Plan	5	Amends the 4th paragraph.	The General Plan is a guide for all levels of government, private enterprise, neighborhood and citizen groups, organizations, and individual citizens. It is intended to guide land use and development decisions [and to influence actions] in 11 key areas [of concern] : (1) Population; (2) The economy and equity ; (3) The natural environment and resource stewardship; (4) Housing and communities; (5) Transportation and utilities' (6) Energy and climate change ; (7) Physical development and urban design; (8) Public safety and community resilience; (9) Health and education; (10) Culture and recreation; (11) Government operations and fiscal management.

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Content of the General Plan	6	Amends the 2nd paragraph.	In preparing the statement of objectives and policies, the [fair] equitable distribution of social benefits was held to be of paramount importance. It [shall continue] continues to be of paramount importance in the pursuit and implementation of these objectives and policies.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Content of the General Plan	6	Amends the 3rd paragraph (retains footnote).	A future [which] that is sustainable and resilient is also of great importance for an island community interested in the current and future well-being of its people. The principles of sustainability recognize that there are limits to the complex network of systems (environmental, economic, and social) that define our lifestyles and overall well-being. A sustainable Honolulu means having the capacity to support the current generation's [demand for and use of its resources] basic needs without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own resource needs. A resilient O'ahu is defined as a community that has the ability to survive, adapt, and thrive despite the challenges we may encounter. To [do this] achieve these goals, the City [and County shall seek to find the appropriate] must responsibly balance [and synthesis of] the major elements of sustainability and resilience that are essential to the creation of a sustainable² place: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Environmental protection; ● Economic health; ● Social equity.

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Content of the General Plan	6-7	Amends the 4th paragraph.	As the 21 st century continues to unfold [;] in the context of a growing climate crisis , the movement to foster sustainability will increasingly influence decisions about future land use, growth, and economic development on O'ahu. Achieving sustainability requires recognizing the relationships, limitations , and linkages between all resources within defined boundaries similar to the values of the traditional [ahupua'a] Native Hawaiian ahupua'a land use management system that encourages stewardship[;] and compatible principles from contemporary watershed management. Sustainability in this context requires active conservation of the island's limited natural resources and other basic resources, and consideration for the health of the environment and the transition to a clean energy and circular economy, in relation to the community's overall well-being. Objectives and policies that support the major elements of sustainability and resilience are interwoven into each of the 11 key areas [of concern].

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Content of the General Plan	7	Amends the 6th paragraph of the section.	The 11 key areas [of concern] designed to address these challenges and directly improve the quality of life for O'ahu residents are summarized in the following section.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Population	7	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	The population objectives and policies encompass two distinct thrusts. The first is to [plan for anticipated future population growth] provide for our current residents in a manner that [considers] respects the limits of O'ahu's natural resources, protects the environment, and minimizes social, cultural, economic, and environmental disruptions. This includes the active management of tourism to prevent visitor impacts from overwhelming the quality of life of our island community. The second is to maintain a pattern of population distribution that will allow people to live, work, and play in harmony. To achieve these two aims, the City and County of Honolulu employs a policy of directed growth (See Chapter I[,], Objective B, Policy 4). A map at the end of Chapter I conceptually shows the development pattern on O'ahu in relation to this policy. The distribution of residential population percentages in Objective B, Policy 4 and the associated map are not regulatory, but are guides to population growth for each DP and SCP area.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	The Economy	8	Amends the title.	THE ECONOMY AND EQUITY

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	The Economy and Equity	8	Amends the 1 st paragraph of the section.	The objectives and policies for economic activity and equity attempt to address the needs of O'ahu residents for an adequate standard of living, an improved quality of life for residents and future generations, and an economy that [contributes to] advances O'ahu's long-term sustainability. [Issues including] Critical issues include providing living wage employment opportunities, viability of new entrepreneurs as well as major industries, the location of jobs[,], and remote work, and addressing increasing economic inequality. The diversification of [the] O'ahu's economic base [and its resiliency to] will increase our resilience to changes in global conditions [are addressed in terms of what government can do to provide, encourage, and] such as pandemics. Government has a leadership role to promote economic opportunities and equity for our residents. [A new policy also promotes] An equitable economic future may be advanced by an innovative and technologically savvy carbon-neutral economy that respects our unique traditions and cultural values.

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Natural Environmental and Resource Stewardship	8	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	The natural environment, next to the island's people, is O'ahu's greatest asset. Protecting the island's natural resources and environmental quality is essential to ensuring the long-term health and well-being of the community. [Besides an] O'ahu's array of biologically rich and diverse ecosystems, [and a] our year-round temperate climate, [there are beautiful mountains, attractive] coastlines and beaches, [ridges, scenic vistas, and] mountains and ridges, and freshwater and marine [environments that are enjoyed by all] resources are the backbone of our visitor economy and resident quality of life, but are also in peril from the impacts of climate change and over-use. The City's policies [seek to] are meant to protect and enhance O'ahu's natural beauty and [environmental attributes] environment by increasing public awareness and [appreciation of them and by mitigating against] reversing the degradation of these assets. The objectives and policies recognize the importance of protecting the natural environment, especially in the context of a changing climate, for current and future generations.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Housing and Communities	8	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	Obtaining decent, reasonably priced [homes in safe and attractive neighborhoods] housing options has been a persistent problem for the residents of O'ahu, and is a primary concern of the General Plan. This section recognizes the importance of [developing whole communities that are] integrated and diverse communities. New housing development must be well-integrated with the surrounding land uses and the natural environment and [that] ideally include [housing,] ready access to schools, services, amenities, and job opportunities.

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Housing and Communities	8	Amends the 2nd paragraph of the section.	The objectives and policies for housing seek to ensure a wide range of housing opportunities and choices and to increase the availability of affordable housing and meet [County] City and State affordability goals; to encourage higher-density housing via mixed-use and transit-oriented developments in rail station areas; to encourage infill housing where permitted; to increase the use of sustainable building designs and techniques; to reduce dwelling unit vacancies as well as speculation in land and housing; and to [address issues associated with homelessness] build affordable housing for lower-income residents to address homelessness and ensure that all people have decent and stable shelter.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Transportation and Utilities	9	Amends the 1st paragraph.	A safe, efficient, and cost-effective multi-modal transportation system that is [less] not dependent on fossil fuels and [generates less] significantly reduces greenhouse gas emissions is essential to our environment, safety, economic [productivity] prosperity, and quality of life. The cost of building and maintaining the various elements of a comprehensive transportation system to service the island is a major public investment. Coordinated planning of accessibility and circulation requirements and integration of the transportation system with existing and planned developments is important [in the effective management of urban growth] to sustainability goals and resident quality of life. The transportation objectives and policies address the need for a balanced ground transportation system that allows safe, comfortable, and convenient travel for all users, including pedestrians, micro-mobility users, bicyclists, public transit riders, and motorists.

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Transportation and Utilities	9	Amends the 2nd paragraph.	The airports and harbors are State facilities and are under State jurisdiction. The City's role is [limited to regulating] to align and regulate surrounding land uses, [providing] provide connectivity to these key facilities, and [processing certain needed permits.] coordinate with the State on critical climate change adaptation efforts to ensure long-term functionality for our residents.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Transportation and Utilities	9	Amends the 3rd paragraph.	Population growth results in increased demands for water, sewerage, and recycling and solid waste disposal services provided by government, as well as [the] communication, electricity, and [gas] utility systems provided by the private sector. [Not only must such needs be met, but the] The social, economic, and environmental [consequences] impacts of meeting these needs must be carefully considered.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Transportation and Utilities	9	Adds a sentence at the end of the 4th paragraph.	As O'ahu moves toward a carbon neutral, zero waste, resource constrained future, utilities will be critical partners in ensuring sustainability.

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Energy and Climate Change	9	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	There is no more salient example of the direct impact of [world events] larger global dynamics on an island community than the [provision of energy.] escalating dangers of global warming and the volatility of global energy supply chains. With [about] more than 90% of O'ahu's electrical and transportation needs powered by imported fossil fuels, [increasing] achieving energy self-sufficiency is [a major stride toward] a critical component of security and sustainability. [Revised objectives and policies recognize that nature is all around us, even in urban areas. Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Physical Development and Urban Design	10	Amends the 1st paragraph.	Physical development and urban design is concerned with the quality of [growth that occurs within the various parts of the Island.] life across communities on the island. The objectives and policies in this area [of concern] deal with the coordination of public facilities and land development, compatibility of land uses, and specification of certain land uses at particular locations. It also deals with creating active, vibrant communities linked not only physically but digitally, and through social media and other forms of technology to promote public participating in the planning process in ways that engage our increasingly digital society. New policies also emphasize the need to recognize and prepare for the current and even greater long-term impacts of climate change.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Physical Development and Urban Design	10	Amends the 2nd paragraph.	Urban design emphasis is contained in objectives to create and maintain attractive, meaningful, and stimulating environments, and to promote and enhance the social and physical character of O'ahu's older towns and neighborhoods. Given the population distribution reflected in the General Plan, it is intended that rural centers be allowed incremental growth over time, [in an organic fashion,] providing for generations to remain in their [home towns] hometowns and maintain the economic viability of our rural and suburban communities. Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Physical Development and Urban Design	10	Amends the 3rd paragraph.	The General Plan [now also contains an objective on] recognizes the increasing need to plan for, address, and mitigate the impacts of climate change and sea level rise. It calls for the City to lead and for all public and private organizations to prepare for [the future] problems caused by rises in sea level, rises in groundwater levels, [and] more frequent and severe storms, shifts in local rainfall patterns, increased flooding, and higher urban temperatures. The Climate Change Adaptation Priority Guidelines of the Hawai'i State Planning Act, HRS § 226-109, the Ola: O'ahu Resilience Strategy, the Multi-Hazard Pre-Disaster Mitigation Plan for the City and County of Honolulu, the Climate Adaptation Design Principles for Urban Development, and the forthcoming City and County of Honolulu Climate Adaptation Strategy support planning and preparing for future disruptions and dislocations due to climate change.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Public Safety and Community Resilience	10	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	Many of the City's services derive from the concern for the safety of the people. The prevention and control of crime and maintenance of public order are one aspect of public safety. The City's policies reflect the roles of the citizen, and the [County,] City, State, and [Federal] federal governments in providing for the safety of residents and visitors. Another aspect deals with the protection of people and property from natural disasters and other emergencies, traffic and fire hazards, and other unsafe conditions. This includes creating resilient, disaster-ready communities that are mentally and physically prepared for disasters and environmental stressors including those [caused or exacerbated] driven by climate change [and sea level rise].

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Culture and Recreation	11	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	Preservation and enhancement of Hawai'i's multiethnic culture will be achieved through policies that encourage and respect the Native Hawaiian culture and its vital influence on the way of life on O'ahu; recognize unique local cultures, values and traditions; ensure equity for historically marginalized groups in our community ; protect and enhance cultural, historic and archaeological sites, buildings, and artifacts; and promote the living arts and culture of our multi-cultural heritage. The City also recognizes the importance of providing adequate park space and facilities to [keep up with] meet changing demand.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Culture and Recreation	11	Amends the 2nd paragraph of the section.	[The use of leisure time is addressed through objectives] Programs and policies encouraging visual and performing arts and the provision of a wide range of recreational facilities and services [that are readily available to] are critical to the quality of life for all residents and visitors. The objectives and policies in the first ten key areas [of concern represent an ambitious agenda which stretches the resources of City government to the limit.] rely on a well-run, transparent, and resourceful City government. Increased efficiency, effectiveness, responsiveness, and fiscal [integrity] responsibility in carrying out the functions of City government are crucial to the City's ability to successfully fulfill its many duties. [A good approach is to right-size government so that its programs and services fit the needs of the people of O'ahu.] In an age of increased technology, automation, and citizen engagement, government operations must evolve to become more open and transparent, embrace crowd-sourcing, and collaborate with communities while also delivering services quickly and ensuring integrity. Increasing challenges require more nimble systems that are able to quickly adapt and adjust. Revenue mechanisms to support these operations should ensure social and economic equity, encourage sustainability, and be aligned to support the other ten key areas.

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Role of the City Government	14	Amends the 1st paragraph.	The City [and County] government will implement the policies contained in the General Plan through ordinances and resolutions as well as through rules and regulations. Also essential to policy implementation are the City's annual budget and six-year capital-improvement program, both of which [should] must be consistent with the objectives and policies of the General Plan, especially with regard to long-term commitments of [money.] funding.

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Implementation	15	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	[By itself, the General Plan cannot bring about all of the changes and improvements which the City and County government considers to be desirable and attainable. It] The General Plan is, by design, a [very] broad policy document, and one of its purposes is to establish a comprehensive vision for the City [and County of Honolulu] and [to] identify and adhere to a coherent set of guidelines, values, and principles [which can] that may be used in developing plans, programs, and legislation for guiding O'ahu's future.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Implementation	15	Amends the 1st sentence of the 3rd paragraph of the section.	The Development Plans (DPs) and Sustainable Community Plans (SCPs) , according to the City Charter, are "conceptual schemes" that describe "the desired urban character and the significant natural, scenic and cultural resources" within a region (Revised Charter of Honolulu Sec. 6-1509).
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Implementation	15	Amends the 3rd paragraph of the section.	The DPs and SCPs contain standards and principles with respect to land uses, statements of urban design principles and controls, and priorities for coordination of development. The City Council adopts DPs and SCPs and amendments thereto by ordinance. These plans should not, however, be confused with zoning [ordinances. Zoning] ordinances, which will continue to regulate the use of land within clearly demarcated zones and set detailed standards for the height, bulk, and location of buildings.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Implementation	15	Amends the 4th paragraph of the section.	In addition to zoning ordinances, the functional plans and programs of the City [and County] agencies must conform to the General Plan and implement the DPs and SCPs. This will ensure that the provision of City services is in accord with the General Plan's objectives, [and] policies, and provisions contained in the lower tiers of plans. Similarly, State [functional plans] Functional Plans and the General Plan are to be mutually consistent, as per the Hawai'i State Planning Act.

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Implementation	16	Amends the 2nd paragraph on the page.	The City and County government is not the only entity responsible for the general welfare of the residents of O'ahu residents . The State and Federal federal governments also have an important influence on the life of the community life , with responsibilities that include the freeway system, public health and education, criminal justice, natural and cultural resource management, environmental protection, and disaster preparedness. In addition, the private sector contributes significantly to O'ahu's economy as the primary leaders in development, construction, and health care industries, thereby providing jobs goods, services, and employment for many residents.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Amendments	16	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	For the General Plan to fulfill its purpose of providing overall guidance to the actions of government, private enterprise, and individual citizens across a broad spectrum of concerns, it must become neither a be rigid nor an become obsolete document . To keep the General Plan flexible and up-to-date, its objectives and policies must be subject to change over time in response to changes in residents' concerns, new approaches, opportunities for addressing those concerns, new approaches , and changes in the basic assumptions underlying the objectives and policies. [One means of accomplishing this is provided by the] The City Charter which directs the Director of Planning and Permitting to undertake a comprehensive review of the General Plan at least once every ten years for Council consideration. [More importantly, however,] In addition, the City Council may amend or revise the General Plan whenever it deems necessary to ensure relevance and address changing conditions .

Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Amendments	16	Amends the 2nd paragraph of the section.	[Emphasis should be placed on reevaluating and amending selected General Plan objectives and policies as problems and issues arise.] The City [and County] government should develop means for identifying emerging problems and issues and evaluating their effect on the concerns of [the people of] O'ahu residents , as expressed in the General Plan. Such an ongoing process would provide a basis for the Director of Planning and Permitting to initiate timely proposals to amend the General Plan in response to changing public concerns.
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Amendments	17	Deletes the entire 3rd paragraph of the section.	[One of the key assumptions underlying many of the General Plan objectives and policies is anticipated future population growth for O'ahu as projected by the State Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism (DBEDT). Consequently, whenever DBEDT revises its population projections for O'ahu, the objectives and policies of the General Plan will be re-evaluated in light of the new projections, and amendments will be proposed as may be appropriate. Also, whenever revised population projections include an extended time horizon, the General Plan will be re-evaluated to ensure that its objectives and policies remain valid for the extended planning horizon.]
Resolution 21-23	O'ahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Interpretation	17	Amends the 2nd paragraph in the section.	The City's directed [growth] development policy is stated in Chapter I (Population), Objective B. Policies 1 through 3 define the [growth] development policy, and Policy 4 illustrates it. Policy 4 is intended to guide the preparation and implementation of development plans by providing a population distribution outcome that is consistent with the directed development policy [growth] .
