11	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Introduction	Introduction	3	Amends the 1st paragraph.	The General Plan for the City and County of Honolulu is a comprehensive statement of objectives and policies [which] that sets forth the long-range aspirations of Oʻahu's residents and the strategies to achieve them. It is the first tier of and lays the foundation for a comprehensive planning process that addresses physical, social, cultural, economic, and environmental concerns affecting the City and County of Honolulu. This planning process serves as the coordinative means by which the City [and County] government provides direction to the [growth] population projected on Oʻahu.	DPP recommendation D-697.

12	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Introduction	Introduction	3	Amends the 2 nd paragraph	The City's planning process is comprised of three distinct tiers. As the first tier of planning, the General Plan establishes policy guidance for O'ahu as a whole, with all subsequent community development plans, policy plans, and implementing regulations of the City and County of Honolulu required to be consistent with the General Plan. The second tier consists of the eight regional Development Plans (DPs) and Sustainable Communities Plans (SCPs). These plans relate to specific regions of the island, and (1) conceptually describe the pattern of land use desired for the region, (2) provide guidance for functional infrastructure planning, and (3) identify areas within the DP/SCP boundary that might benefit from more detailed planning. The third tier is comprised of the specific mechanisms to implement the two higher levels of the planning hierarchy. These include the implementing ordinances and regulations (i.e., the Land Use Ordinance [(Honolulu's zoning code)] and Zoning, the Subdivision Rules and Regulations, and the City's Capital Improvement Program), public facilities and infrastructure functional plans, and special area plans that give specific guidance for specific portions of [the] a DP or SCP area. 18	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Introduction	Introduction	4	Amends the 3rd paragraph on the page.	O'ahu is the third largest of the eight main Hawaiian islands, with a total land area of approximately 600 square miles and nearly 230 miles of shoreline. Nicknamed the "Gathering Place," O'ahu is the most populous and developed island, and is the island that has experienced the greatest population growth and development transformation since [the introduction of western culture to these islands] western contact. With a resident population that increased from about 60,000 in 1900, to [953,000] 1,016,500 in [2010] 2020, O'ahu accounts for approximately 70% of the state's total population. In addition, O'ahu reports the highest number of visitors per year.	DPP recommendation D-697.
19	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Introduction	Introduction	4	Amends the 4th paragraph on the page.	No other Hawaiian island offers the contrast and diversity in urban, rural, and natural landscapes as Oʻahu. Oʻahu's urban core, stretching from Waiʻalae-Kāhala to Pearl City, is home to the [state's] State's financial center (downtown Honolulu), the [state's] State's most well-known visitor destination (Waikīkī), and the [state's] State's main commercial harbor and international airport. Beyond the urban core, suburban and rural communities are surrounded by scenic vistas and open spaces, including active farmlands. The Koʻolau and Waiʻanae Mountain Ranges, other geological landmarks such as Diamond Head, and the island's shorelines and beaches contribute significantly to Oʻahu's natural beauty, [and]-recreational [amenities.] opportunities, and cultural heritage. Although future population projections indicate a slower rate of growth in the future due to an aging population and mature economy, Oʻahu will continue to maintain its prominence as the [state's] State's economic, political, and population center.	DPP recommendation D-697.

22	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Content of the General Plan	6	Amends the 2nd paragraph.	In preparing the statement of objectives and policies, the [fair] equitable distribution of social benefits was held to be of paramount importance. It shall continue to be of paramount importance in the pursuit and implementation of these objectives and policies.	DPP recommendation D-697.
23	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Content of the General Plan	6	Amends the 3rd paragraph (retains footnote).	A future which is sustainable is also of great importance for an island community interested in the current and future wellbeing of its people. The principles of sustainability recognize that there are limits to the complex network of systems (environmental, economic, and social) that define our lifestyles and overall well-being. A sustainable Honolulu means having the capacity to support the current generation's [demand for and use of its resources] basic resource needs without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs. To do this, the City [and County]-shall seek to find the appropriate balance and synthesis of the major elements of sustainability that are essential to the creation of a sustainable¹ place: • Environmental protection; • Economic health; • Social equity.	DPP recommendation D-697.

24	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Content of the General Plan	6-7	Amends the 4th paragraph.	As the 21 st century continues to unfold, the necessary movement to foster sustainability will i influence decisions about future land use, growth, and economic development on O'ahu. Achieving sustainability requires recognizing the relationships, and linkages between all resources within defined boundaries similar to the values of the traditional [ahupua'a] Native Hawaiian ahupua'a land use management system that encourages stewardship[₇] and compatible principles from contemporary watershed management. Sustainability in this context requires active conservation of the island's limited natural resources and other basic resources, and consideration for the health of the environment and the economy, in relation to the community's overall well-being. It also requires resilience in the face of the climate crisis, and forward-looking strategies to adapt and thrive, despite the challenges we encounter now and into the future. Objectives and policies that support the major elements of sustainability and resilience are interwoven into each of the 11 key areas of forward-looking the General Plan.	DPP recommendation D-697.

25	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Content of the General Plan	7	Amends the 5th paragraph of the section.	Examples of what sustainability means in practice are: o Direct action to adapt, mitigate, and respond to an ongoing climate crisis with resilience; o Compact and mixed-use development patterns that encourage higher densities [and] to conserve energy [and], resources, and prevent urban sprawl;
								 Preservation and protection of agricultural, natural, cultural, and open space resources;
								 Multi-modal transportation networks and rail transit- oriented developments to reduce automobile use and carbon emissions;
								 Efficient building design and technology to reduce water and energy consumption and pollution of all types;
								 Greater public awareness of and participation in actions to reduce waste and excessive consumption;
								 Increased participation and a broader scope of on-island recycling and waste stream reduction;
								 Use of renewable energy sources to [reduce] end dependence on imported fossil fuels [where economically and environmentally appropriate];
								 Greater production and consumption of locally-grown food and locally produced products;
								 Economic diversification that emphasizes the well-being of O'ahu's residents and is resilient to changes in global conditions;
								[Greater awareness] Awareness that the collective "social capital" and the aloha spirit within O'ahu's communities is vital to maintaining a strong and [productive] healthy society.

26	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Content of the General Plan	7	Amends the 6th paragraph of the section.	The 11 key areas [of concern] designed to address these challenges and directly improve the quality of life for O'ahu residents are summarized in the following section.
27	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Population	7	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	The population objectives and policies encompass two distinct thrusts. The first is to [plan for anticipated future population growth] provide for our current residents in a manner that [considers] respects the limits of O'ahu's natural resources, protects the environment, and minimizes social, cultural, economic, and environmental disruptions. This includes the active management of tourism to prevent visitor impacts from overwhelming the quality of life for our island community. The second is to maintain a pattern of population distribution that will allow people to live, work, and play in harmony. To achieve these two aims, the City and County of Honolulu employs a policy of directed growth (See Chapter I. Objective B, Policy 4). A map at the end of Chapter I conceptually shows the development pattern on O'ahu in relation to this policy. The distribution of residential population percentages in Objective B, Policy 4 and the associated map are not regulatory, but are guides to population growth for each DP and SCP area.

29	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Balanced Economy	8	Amends the 1 st paragraph of the section.	The objectives and policies for balanced economic activity attempt to address the needs for an adequate standard of living, an improved quality of life for residents and future generations, and [an] a diversified economy that [contributes to] advances O'ahu's long-term sustainability. [Issues including] Critical issues include varied employment and advancement opportunities, living wage jobs, viability of both major industries and small businesses, the location of jobs, inclusion of flexible and remote work, and diversification of the economic base [and] to ensure its resiliency to changes in global conditions [are addressed in terms of]. Policies address what government can do to provide, encourage, and promote economic opportunities and reduce economic inequity for our residents. [A new policy also promotes an] An innovative, sustainable, and technologically savvy economy that respects our unique traditions and cultural values will advance an equitable economic future. 30	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Natural Environmental and Resource Stewardship	8	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	The natural environment, next to the island's people, is O'ahu's greatest asset. Protecting the island's natural resources and environmental quality is essential to ensuring the long-term health and well-being of the community. [Besides an] O'ahu's array of biologically rich and diverse ecosystems, [and a] yearround temperate climate, [there are] beautiful mountains, [attractive] beaches, scenic vistas, and freshwater and marine environments [that are] enjoyed by all. However, these precious resources that are fundamental to O'ahu's lifestyle and economy are also adversely impacted by climate change, and in some cases the ill-effects of overuse. The City's policies seek to protect and enhance O'ahu's natural beauty and [environmental attributes] environment by increasing public awareness and appreciation, [of them] and by mitigating against the degradation of these assets. The objectives and policies recognize the importance of protecting the natural environment for current and future generations.	DPP recommendation D-697.
31	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Housing and Communities	8	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	Obtaining decent, reasonably priced [homes] housing in safe and attractive neighborhoods has been a persistent problem for the residents of O'ahu, and is a primary concern of the General Plan. This section recognizes the importance of [developing whole communities] diverse communities that are well-integrated with transportation, the surrounding land uses and the natural environment and that include housing, access to schools, services, amenities, and job opportunities.	DPP recommendation D-697.

32	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Housing and Communities	8	Amends the 2nd paragraph of the section.	The objectives and policies for housing seek to ensure a wide range of housing opportunities and choices and to increase the availability of affordable housing, including at the lowest income levels, and meet [County] City and State affordability goals; to encourage higher-density housing via mixed-use and transit-oriented developments in rail station areas; to encourage infill housing where permitted; to increase the use of sustainable building designs and techniques; to reduce speculation in land and housing; and to address issues associated with homelessness so that all people have decent and stable [shelter] housing options.	DPP recommendation D-697.
33	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Transportation and Utilities	9	Amends the 1st paragraph.	[A] Moving quickly toward a safe, efficient, and cost-effective multi-modal transportation system that is [less] not dependent on fossil fuels and generates far less greenhouse gas emissions is essential to [our] the environment, economic [productivity] prosperity, and quality of life. The cost of building and maintaining the various elements of a comprehensive transportation system to service the island is a major public investment. Coordinated planning of accessibility and circulation requirements and integration of the island's transportation [system with] network within existing and planned developments is important in the effective management of urban growth and in meeting the community's daily needs. The transportation objectives and policies address the need for a balanced ground transportation system that allows safe, comfortable, and convenient travel for all users, including pedestrians, micro-mobility users, bicyclists, public transit riders, and motorists.	DPP recommendation D-697.

34	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Transportation and Utilities	9	Amends the 2nd paragraph.	The airports and harbors are State facilities and are under State jurisdiction. The City's role is limited to [regulating] align and regulate surrounding land uses, [providing] provide connectivity to these key facilities, and [processing] process certain needed permits.	DPP recommendation D-697.
35	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Transportation and Utilities	9	Amends the 3rd paragraph.	Population growth results in increased demands for water, sewerage, [and] recycling, and solid waste disposal services provided by government, as well as the communication, electricity, and [gas] other utility systems provided by the private sector. [Not only must] When meeting such needs [be met, but] the social, economic, and environmental consequences [of meeting these needs] must be carefully considered at all decision points.	DPP recommendation D-697.
36	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Transportation and Utilities	9	Adds a sentence at the end of the 4th paragraph.	Reliability, cost-effectiveness, and capacity are necessary attributes of a highly functioning utility system. In addition to emphasizing the importance of these attributes, the objectives and policies for utilities emphasize the need for efficient and dependable transmission and service, adequate supplies of water, and environmentally sound waste disposal systems. As O'ahu moves toward a resource constrained future to be met with carbon-neutral and zero waste goals, utilities will be critical partners in adopting sustainable practices.	DPP recommendation D-697.

38	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Energy Systems	9	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	There is no more salient example of the direct impact of [world events] larger global dynamics on an island community than the [provision of energy.] escalating dangers of global warming and the volatility of global energy supply chains. With [about] more than 90% of Oʻahuʻs electrical and transportation needs powered by imported fossil fuels, [increasing] achieving energy self-sufficiency is [a major stride toward] a critical component of achieving sustainability. [Revised objectives and policies recognize that nature is all around us, even in urban areas. Renewable energy development, efficient energy utilization, conservation, and reducing energy demand are addressed with the goals of reducing dependence on outside sources, increasing the resiliency of energy systems, and promoting sustainable energy practices.] Our health and livability, even in the most urban area, directly depend on the health and integrity of natural ecosystems. Our island's achievement of 100 percent renewable energy and renewable transportation must include increasing the resilience of our energy grid, protecting agricultural productivity, enhancing community trust, and guarding against the most hazardous impacts of climate change. Policies have been revised to support net zero to net positive performance in the areas of energy, low carbon emissions, waste streams, all utilities, and food security.	DPP recommendation D-697.

39	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Physical Development and Urban Design	10	Amends the 1st paragraph.	Physical development and urban design [is] are concerned with the [quality] management of growth and the quality of life that [occurs]-occur within the various parts of the island. The objectives and policies in this area [of concern deal] are concerned with the coordination of public facilities and land development, compatibility of land uses, and specification of certain land uses at particular locations. It also deals with creating active, vibrant communities linked not only physically but digitally, and through social media and other forms of technology to promote public participating in the planning process in ways that engage our increasingly digital society. New policies also emphasize the need to recognize and prepare for the current and even greater long-term impacts of climate change.	DPP recommendation D-697.
40	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Physical Development and Urban Design	10	Amends the 2nd paragraph.	Urban design emphasis is contained in objectives to create and maintain attractive, meaningful, and stimulating environments, and to promote and enhance the social and physical character of O'ahu's older towns and neighborhoods. Given the population distribution reflected in the General Plan, it is intended that rural centers be allowed incremental growth over time, [in an organic fashion,] providing for generations to remain in their [home towns] hometowns and maintain the economic viability of our rural and suburban communities.	Planning Commission recommendation.

41	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Physical Development and Urban Design	10	Amends the 3rd paragraph.	The General Plan now also contains [an objective] objectives on climate change and sea level rise and the continued need to plan for and mitigate associated impacts. It calls for all public and private organizations to prepare for [the future] problems caused by rises in sea level, rises in groundwater levels, [and] more frequent and severe storms, shifts in local rainfall patterns, increased flooding, and higher urban temperatures. [The Climate Change Adaptation Priority Guidelines of the Hawai'i State Planning Act, HRS § 226-109, support planning and preparing for future disruptions and dislocations due to climate change.] The State and the City have adopted strategies and plans that guide the response to climate change.
42	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Public Safety and Community Resilience	10	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	Many of the City's services derive from the concern for the safety of the people. The prevention and control of crime and maintenance of public order are one aspect of public safety. The City's policies reflect the roles of the citizen, and the [County,] City, State, and [Federal] federal governments in providing for the safety of residents and visitors. Another aspect deals with the protection of people and property from natural disasters and other emergencies, traffic and fire hazards, and other unsafe conditions. This includes creating resilient, disaster-ready communities that are mentally and physically prepared for disasters and environmental stressors including those [caused or exacerbated] driven by climate change [and sea level rise].

43	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Health and Education	11	Amends the 2 nd paragraph of the section	Objectives and policies for education call for a wide range of educational opportunities, development of employable skills, efficient use of facilities and appropriate facility location, and the promotion of Honolulu as a center for higher education in the Pacific. A new education policy also calls for [Honolulu to become a "home to the wisdom of nations" by recognizing its] recognizing Honolulu's status as an international Pacific crossroads, and another encourages outdoor learning opportunities and venues that reflect [our] O'ahu's unique natural environment and Native Hawaiian culture.	DPP recommendation D-697.
44	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Culture and Recreation	11	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	Preservation and enhancement of Hawai'i's multiethnic culture will be achieved through policies that encourage and respect the Native Hawaiian culture and its vital influence on the way of life on O'ahu; recognize unique local cultures, values and traditions; prioritize equity for historically marginalized groups; protect and enhance cultural, historic and archaeological sites, buildings, and artifacts; and promote the living arts and culture of our multi-cultural heritage. The City also recognizes the importance of providing adequate park space and facilities to [keep up with] meet changing demand.

[The use of leisure time is addressed through objectives] Objectives and policies [encouraging] encourage visual and performing arts and the provision of a wide range of recreational facilities and services that are readily available to residents and visitors. New policies also call for [utilizing] using our unique natural environment in a responsible way for cultural events and activities, and for creating and promoting recreational venues for all to enjoy from [kupuna] kūpuna to keiki, and kama'āina [and] to malihini. 46	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Government Operations and Fiscal Mgmt	11-12	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	The objectives and policies in the first ten key areas [of concern represent an ambitious agenda which stretches the resources of City government to the limit.] rely on a well-run, transparent, and resourceful City government. Increased efficiency, effectiveness, responsiveness, and fiscal [integrity] responsibility in carrying out the functions of City government are crucial to the City's ability to successfully fulfill its many duties. [A good approach is to right size government so that its programs and services fit the needs of the people of O'ahu.] In an age of increased technology, automation, and citizen engagement, government operations must evolve to become more open and transparent, embrace crowd-sourcing, and collaborate with communities while also delivering services quickly and ensuring integrity. Increasing challenges require more nimble systems that are able to quickly adapt and adjust. Revenue mechanisms to support these operations should ensure social and economic equity, encourage sustainability, and be aligned to support the other ten key areas.

48	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Role of the City Government	14	Amends the 1st paragraph.	The City [and County] government will implement the policies contained in the General Plan through ordinances and resolutions as well as through rules and regulations. Also essential to policy implementation are the City's annual budget and six-year capital-improvement program, both of which should be consistent with the objectives and policies of the General Plan, especially with regard to long-term commitments of [money.] funding.

49	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Role of the City Government	14	Amends the 2nd paragraph.	[It is necessary to remember, however, that the] The City [and County] government is not alone in determining the general welfare of the people of Oʻahu. The State and [Federal] federal governments, too, have an important influence on the quality of life of the community. The City [and County] recognizes the need for close cooperation among the various levels of government and [, in striving to meet] promoting the objectives of the General Plan [, pledges not to lose sight of this very great need.] when acting in concert with State and federal partners.
50	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Citizen Participation	14	Amends the first paragraph of the section.	Individual citizens and community groups should participate freely to help bring about the success of the General Plan. Indeed, in a democratic society they have a responsibility to express their concerns to the City [and County] government and to work constantly for more effective government action. Residents of the City [and County of Honolulu] are encouraged to democratically and meaningfully participate in the determination of the direction and quality of future growth on O'ahu through the City's Neighborhood Board system, community organizations, and associations.
51	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Citizen Participation	14-15	Amends the last sentence of 2nd paragraph of the section.	The government also needs to engage its citizens in new, evolving ways to maximize participation, including social media and other [forms of electronic communications.] digital platforms.

52	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Implementation	15	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	By itself, the General Plan cannot bring about all of the changes and improvements which the City and County government considers to be desirable and attainable. It is, by design, a [very] broad policy document[, and one of its purposes is] to establish a comprehensive vision for the City and County of Honolulu and to identify a coherent and more specialized set of guidelines, values, and principles which can be used in developing plans, programs, and legislation for guiding Oʻahu's future.	DPP recommendation D-697.
53	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Implementation	15	Amends the 1st sentence of the 3rd paragraph of the section.	The Development Plans (DPs) and Sustainable Community Plans (SCPs), according to the City Charter, are "conceptual schemes" that describe "the desired urban character and the significant natural, scenic and cultural resources" within a region (Revised Charter of Honolulu Sec. 6-1509). They are a tool for implementing the objectives and policies of the General Plan, serving as a policy guide for the City's more detailed zoning [maps and] regulations, and public and private sector investment decisions. The DPs and SCPs provide for land use and public facilities planning as well as indicate the sequence in which development will occur. They must implement and accomplish the objectives and policies of the General Plan.	DPP recommendation D-697.
54	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Implementation	15	Amends the 3rd paragraph of the section.	The DPs and SCPs contain standards and principles with respect to land uses, statements of urban design principles and controls, and priorities for coordination of development. The City Council adopts DPs and SCPs and amendments thereto by ordinance. These plans should not, however, be confused with zoning [ordinances. Zoning] ordinances, which will continue to regulate the use of land within clearly demarcated zones and set detailed standards for the height, bulk, and location of buildings.

55	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Implementation	15	Amends the 4th paragraph of the section.	In addition to zoning ordinances, the functional plans and programs of the City [and County] agencies must conform to the General Plan and implement the DPs and SCPs. This will ensure that the provision of City services is in accord with the General Plan's objectives, [and] policies, and provisions contained in the lower tiers of plans. Similarly, State [functional plans] Functional Plans and the General Plan are to be mutually consistent, as per the Hawai'i State Planning Act.
56	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Implementation	16	Amends the 2nd paragraph on the page.	The City [and County] government is not the only entity responsible for the general welfare of the residents of Oʻahu. The State and [Federal] federal governments also have an important influence on the life of the community, with responsibilities that include the freeway system, public health and education, criminal justice, natural and cultural resource management, environmental protection, and disaster preparedness. In addition, the private sector contributes significantly to Oʻahu's economy as the primary leaders in development, construction, and health care industries, thereby providing [jobs] goods, services, and employment for many residents. The City and County recognizes the need for close collaboration among the public and private sectors in order to meet the objectives of the General Plan.	DPP recommendation D-697.

57	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Amendments	16	Amends the 1st paragraph of the section.	For the General Plan to fulfill its purpose of providing overall guidance to the actions of government, private enterprise, and individual citizens across a broad spectrum of concerns, it must become neither a rigid nor an obsolete document. To keep the General Plan flexible and up-to-date, its objectives and policies must be subject to change over time in response to changes in residents' concerns, new approaches, opportunities for addressing those concerns, and changes in the basic assumptions underlying the objectives and policies. One means of accomplishing this is provided by the City Charter which directs the Director of Planning and Permitting to undertake a comprehensive review of the General Plan at least once every ten years for Council consideration. More importantly, however, the City Council may amend or revise the General Plan whenever it deems necessary to ensure relevance and address changing conditions.	DPP recommendation D-697.
58	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Amendments	16	Amends the 2nd paragraph of the section.	Emphasis should be placed on reevaluating and amending selected General Plan objectives and policies as problems and issues arise. The City [and County] government should develop means for identifying emerging problems and issues and evaluating their effect on the concerns of the people of O'ahu as expressed in the General Plan. Such an ongoing process would provide a basis for the Director of Planning and Permitting to initiate timely proposals to amend the General Plan in response to changing public concerns. 59	Resolution 21-23	Oʻahu General Plan	Plan	Preamble	Amendments	17	Amends the 3rd paragraph of the section.	One of the key assumptions underlying many of the General Plan objectives and policies is anticipated future population growth for O'ahu as projected by the State Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism (DBEDT). Consequently, whenever DBEDT revises its population projections for O'ahu, the objectives and policies of the General Plan will be re-evaluated in light of the new projections, and amendments will be proposed as may be appropriate.
