1. Adds a new subdivision (6) to require the self-certified professional to be insured with professional liability insurance, issued by an insurer authorized to insure such risks in the State, with minimum policy limits (per claim and in the aggregate for all claims made during the policy period) in the amounts specified by rule adopted by the Building Official; and
 2. Adds a new subdivision (7) to require the self-certified professional to attend a training class provided by the Department of Planning and Permitting, and to receive a certificate of completion upon demonstrating substantial comprehension of the materials covered in the training class.

BILL 6 (2023), CD2 _____

PROPOSED

A BILL FOR AN ORDINANCE

RELATING TO PROFESSIONAL SELF-CERTIFICATION.

BE IT ORDAINED by the People of the City and County of Honolulu:

SECTION 1. Purpose and Findings.

The City Council finds that for years, the Department of Planning and Permitting ("DPP") has been faced with challenges, including severe understaffing, high staff turnover rates, a bribery scandal, and outdated technology, resulting in unprecedented delays in the issuance of building permits. As of July 2023, the median time to process a building permit application was 196 days.

Lengthy delays in obtaining a building permit have caused significant development interruptions and postponements, which may lead to a sluggish economy. Due to inflation, rising costs, and climbing interest rates, prolonged building permit application processing times may result in difficulty obtaining financing and soaring construction costs. In addition, not being able to make needed improvements to buildings and structures may cause hardship, including the lack of safe and decent housing, and disruption to business operations.

The DPP is increasing its staff recruitment, hiring, training, and retention efforts; has procured new software to replace its antiquated POSSE system; is evaluating the various codes to determine whether any provisions are duplicative or overly burdensome; and is looking at ways (internally and externally) to streamline the building permit process. In the short-term, the DPP is considering other solutions to facilitate the processing of building permit applications, while not sacrificing public safety.

The purpose of this ordinance is to temporarily alleviate the backlog of building permit applications by providing the Building Official the authority to allow for alternative means to review building permit applications for compliance with pertinent codes.

SECTION 2. Establishment of a temporary professional self-certification program to expedite the review and processing of certain building permit applications.

- (a) Definitions. For the purposes of this SECTION, the following definitions apply unless the context clearly indicates or requires a different meaning.
